

DARRELL L. WILLIAMS, Ph.D.

Dr. Williams has extensive experience in antitrust litigation consulting. He has worked as an expert on a broad range of antitrust issues such as exclusive dealings, exclusive territories, price fixing, joint ventures, and damages, to name a few. He has held economic positions at the President's Council of Economic Advisors and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington, D.C., where he analyzed microeconomic issues, including industrial organization and regulation. As a faculty member at the UCLA department of Economics, he taught courses on antitrust, securities markets, and the economics of regulation. Dr. Williams has taught at the Economics Institute for Federal Judges sponsored by the George Mason Law School and has served as Vice-Chair of the Economics Committee, Antitrust Section of the American Bar Association. In addition to numerous corporate clients, he has served as an expert on behalf of the Federal Trade Commission and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
