

Esther Chavez is an Assistant Attorney General and Deputy Chief in the Consumer Protection and Public Health Division of the Office of Texas Attorney General Greg Abbott. Ms. Chavez' cases on behalf of the Division encompass a broad range of consumer protection concerns.

Ms. Chavez' professional activities include current service on the Texas State Bar's Consumer Law Section council. Previously she has served as Vice Chair of the Texas State Bar's Hispanic Concerns Section and as Vice Chair of its Legal Services to the Poor in Civil Matters Committee.

Ms. Chavez is a frequent speaker on consumer protection topics and in the last several years has been a speaker at continuing legal education seminars including the Texas State Bar Advanced Consumer & Commercial Law Course, the National Association of Attorneys General Training and Research Institute, the National Association of Attorneys General Consumer Protection Conference, the University of Texas Law School Telecom, Broadband and Wireless Conference, the American Law Institute's Direct and Interactive Marketing Law Seminar, the University of Houston Computer & Information Law Institute, the Privacy Symposium at Harvard and the Practising Law Institute Annual Seminar on Privacy and Data Security Law.

Ms. Chavez was born in El Paso, Texas, grew up in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas and obtained her undergraduate and legal education at the University of Texas at Austin and the University of Texas School of Law.