Frank Hinman represents clients in all aspects of public and private antitrust enforcement, including international cartel cases, class actions, merger clearance and civil conduct investigations under the Sherman and FTC Acts. His recent antitrust litigation matters have involved microprocessors, flash memory, money transfer and payment services, telecommunications, musical instruments, freight forwarding, and college sports. He also provides day-to-day counseling on antitrust issues, with an emphasis on distribution and acquisition strategies.

Frank is Vice-Chair of the ABA Antitrust Section's Trade, Sports, and Professional Associations Committee. He served as an associate editor of the Antitrust Section's Antitrust magazine for several years, is a contributor to many Section publications, and speaks regularly on antitrust issues. He is listed in The Best Lawyers in America.
