

Jim McKeown, Foley & Lardner LLP

Jim McKeown is a partner with Foley & Lardner LLP and heads the firm's national Antitrust Practice. He is a member of the Litigation Department and the Sports Industry Team.

Mr. McKeown's litigation practice includes antitrust litigation (including class action defense), distribution disputes, and general litigation. Mr. McKeown has represented clients in a number of high profile antitrust and sports cases. He was lead counsel in Major League Baseball Properties, Inc. v. Salvino, Inc., in which he defended an antitrust challenge to a professional sports league's centralized trademark licensing. He also counsels clients on antitrust issues in a wide variety of areas, including the antitrust aspects of mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, intellectual property, health care, and product distribution. He regularly represents clients in matters before the federal antitrust enforcement agencies, including representation on Hart-Scott-Rodino matters.
