

John T. (“Tommy”) Prud’homme, Jr.

Tommy graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a B.A. in English. He then attended Gonzaga University School of Law in Spokane, Washington, where he was managing editor of the law review and graduated Summa Cum Laude. Immediately after law school, Tommy clerked for the honorable Robert F. Brachtenbach of the Washington Supreme Court. He spent the next six years as an Assistant Attorney General in the Washington Attorney General’s Office. In 1997 he returned home to Texas to work in the Antitrust Division of the Texas Attorney General’s Office. In July of 2009 he was appointed acting Chief of the Texas Attorney General’s Antitrust Division and in February of 2010 he was named Chief. He is also Chair of the Texas Attorney General’s Legal Education Committee and of the NAAG Antitrust Task Force’s Telecommunications Committee.
