Biographical information:

Peggy Twohig is currently the Director of the Office of Consumer Protection at the Department of the Treasury. Prior to joining Treasury last July, Ms. Twohig worked at the FTC for 17 years on enforcement and policy issues related to consumer financial services, including as Associate Director of the Division of Financial Practices. Before her work at the FTC, Ms. Twohig practiced law with the firm of Arnold & Porter in Washington D.C., handling civil litigation matters. Ms. Twohig received her law degree from the New York University School of Law and a master's degree in public policy from Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs in 1983. After law school, she clerked for the Honorable William K. Thomas in United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio.
