Why You Should Attend

Today more than ever it is critical to stay informed on the latest trends in the law. The recent economic tumult has changed the profession in fundamental ways. Inside and outside counsel alike will benefit from understanding how these changes affect litigation strategy, trial strategy, dealing with the government, and other issues.

What You Will Learn

- Best practices for management of litigation to ensure cost-effective results
- Perspectives of inside and outside counsel and consultants on hot topics and trends
- Strategies for fostering key relationships with your corporate clients

Who Should Attend

- Chief litigation counsel and other in-house counsel looking to meet and learn from their peers and potential outside counsel
- Outside counsel interested in learning what is on the minds of their clients and potential clients
- Any lawyer wanting to get timely, relevant CLE in a collegial atmosphere

Special Discounts

- In-house attorneys receive $150 off Section, ABA, or Non-ABA member rates
- Register two firm attorneys and bring an in-house attorney for free
- Three or more attorneys from the same firm/company can receive a 33% registration discount

7:00 am – 7:50 am

Continental Breakfast

7:50 am – 8:00 am

Welcome and Introductory Remarks

*Ronald L. Marmer, Chair,
ABA Section of Litigation*

8:00 am – 9:15 am CLE

Plenary 2: Taking Away Plaintiff's Exhibit A: How to Avoid the Creation of Harmful Internal Documents

Ill-chosen words or speculative musings in internal emails, marketing reports, or even board meeting notes can alter the dynamics of litigation and exacerbate corporate crises. This panel will offer some practical approaches to corporate document discipline to avoid the creation of plaintiff's Exhibit A in the first place.

Moderator: Arvin Maskin

Speakers: Taa Grays, Debra Pole, Kathleen Strickland, Dina Venero, Mary Wells

9:15 am – 9:30 am

Coffee Break

9:30 am – 10:30 am CLE

Breakout Session 1: Hot Topics in Securities Liability for Corporate Officers and Directors

Using a hypothetical, this panel will deal with the civil and criminal liability issues facing the corporate officers and directors, reporting issues, internal investigation issues, possible discipline for the offenders, dealing with a parallel SEC/DOJ investigation, a class action securities lawsuit, a shareholder's derivative lawsuit, and insurance coverage issues.

Moderator: Francis J. Burke, Jr.

Speakers: Mary Craig Calkins, Koji Fukumura, Stacey Gottlieb, Rosalind R. Tyson

Breakout Session 2: Community Service Opportunities for Corporate Counsel

What are the opportunities and ethical challenges for in-house counsel to become involved in pro bono and community service work? Hear from corporate counsel and others who have addressed these issues and successfully established these programs. This dynamic panel will discuss the ethical considerations and other hurdles to building rewarding and enriching programs within your organization.

Moderator: Joseph P. Esposito

Speakers: Wendy S. Brooks, Aaron T. Marshall, Bruce A. Rubin, Susan B. Sanchez

Breakout Session 3: Keys to Success as an Associate: How to Make Associates Indispensable and Provide Value to Corporate Clients

This program is a must for associates who want to not only survive, but thrive, and to the partners who train and mentor them. The panel, comprised of in-house and outside counsel, will discuss the unique challenges of being a junior attorney and their best advice for distinguishing yourself in the eyes of your firm and your clients.

Moderator: Lance J. Ream

Speakers: Gary L. Armstead II, Chauntis T. Jenkins, Tracey Salmon-Smith

10:30 am – 10:45 am

Coffee Break

10:45 am – 12:00 pm CLE

Plenary 3: Valuing Litigation and Valuing Diversity: Can These Principles Coexist?

Legal departments are insisting that purchasing litigation services from firms is all about “value.”

Companies are driving their firms to reduce their costs while they increase the quality and value of the legal services. Corporations are also interested in firms providing services through a diverse legal team. In the corporations’ quest for optimal “value,” does diversity take a back seat? In this dynamic and interactive program, you will hear whether these two goals can co-exist. As a member of the audience, you will have the opportunity to provide “value” by weighing in on this very sensitive and critical issue through the use of electronic voting devices.

Moderator: Robert R. Simpson

Speakers: David Allen, Jill Dessalines, Joseph K. West

12:00 pm – 1:15 pm

Corporate Counsel’s Fourteenth Annual Pro Bono Award Luncheon (ticketed event: $45)

PROGRAMMING

1:30 pm – 2:45 pm CLE

Breakout Session 4: Winning by Losing: How to Try the Losing Case for Appeal

We've all been there—trial of a case no one could win. But such cases can be won on appeal. An experienced panel will explore a variety of strategies to employ throughout your trial to best position your case for a successful appeal.

Moderator: David B. Hamilton

Speakers: Sunil Kulkarni, Hon. Sheila Prell
Sonenshine, Dennis J. Stryker, Miriam A. Vogel

Breakout Session 5: Forging Ahead: Charting the Course of Your In-House Legal Career

Achieve professional satisfaction using effective strategies to achieve the reality you desire. The panel will address issues including developing a vision for success, engaging the appropriate mentors, proper positioning both within your organization and in the broader legal market to achieve the next professional milestone, and leveraging your attained success.

Moderator: Andrea Tecce

Speakers: Joyce Crucillo, Miriam J. Frank,
T. Warren Jackson

Come learn about the various subcommittees that the Corporate Counsel Committee offers. All seminar attendees welcome.

8:00 am – 9:15 am CLE

Plenary 4: Changing Landscape: Class Action Litigation after Wal-Mart and AT&T Mobility

The imminent death of consumer, employee, and even securities class actions was widely proclaimed following the Supreme Court decisions in AT&T Mobility and Wal-Mart, though those predictions may have been premature. This highly topical program will address what class action practitioners and in-house counsel need to know about their impact.

Moderator: Mark S. Davidson

Speakers: Susan G. Fillichio, Jocelyn Larkin,
Yvette Ostolaza, Denise V. Zamore

9:15 am – 9:25 am

Coffee Break

9:25 am – 10:25 am CLE

Breakout Session 6: State Attorneys General Investigations, Task Forces, and Litigation: What a General Counsel Needs to Know

State attorneys general have never been more active conducting investigations and prosecuting claims in an array of fields, including banking, lending, finance, the environment, healthcare, and consumer fraud. They form task forces and work with each other across state lines and even hire private lawyers to investigate and prosecute claims on their behalf. This panel, which will include current and former state attorneys general, will provide an insider's primer for how to respond to investigations or claims by state attorneys general against your client.

Moderator: Darren VanPuymbrouck

Speakers: Beth Golden, Kenneth A. Polite, Jr.,
Reuben Shelton, Dana Walker Tucker

Breakout Session 7: The Future of the Law Is Up in the Clouds: The New Ethical Reality of Cloud Computing and Social Media

Cloud computing and social media are critical to business operations today. A panel representing business, legal, and technological consulting constituencies will identify cutting-edge practices to harness the power and avoid the pitfalls presented by cloud computing and social media, with a focus on ethical issues for in-house and outside counsel dealing with jurors, e-discovery, privacy, and security.

Moderator: Elizabeth S. Fenton

Speakers: Tanya Forsheit, Laura McLaughlin, Steve McNew, Ashish Prasad

Breakout Session 8: When Can a Breach of Contract Be a Tort and What Difference Does It Make?

The judicially created doctrine known as the Economic Loss Rule has developed over the years from a little quirk in the law of products liability to a total bar against claims for business losses for which contracting parties did not expressly allocate the risk. In recent cases, courts have recognized the Frankenstein monster created by some earlier holdings and have started to retrench. This program will analyze the reasons for the rule and the merits of interpreting it narrowly or broadly.

Moderator: Beatrice O'Donnell

Speakers: Andrew E. Shipley, Todd Sorensen, Amy Stewart

10:25 am – 10:35 am
Coffee Break

10:35 am – 11:50 am CLE

Plenary 5: From the Bench: How to Represent Business Entities Before the Court

Four outstanding judges will discuss what works, and what doesn't work, when you are representing business entities. For example, does it help to "personalize" a company? What are the biggest mistakes they have seen? The judges will also tell us about the "hot topics" being discussed in their respective courts that are likely to affect us in our litigation matters.

Moderator: Steven Brower

Speakers: Hon. Jay C. Gandhi, Hon. Joseph A. Greenaway, Jr., Hon. Alex Kozinski, Hon. Carolyn B. Kuhl

12:00 pm – 1:30 pm

Networking Luncheon (ticketed event: $25)
