

JENNIFER LEWIN

Jennifer Lewin joined the ABA's Division for Bar Services in 1997. During her tenure, she served as ABA staff director for the National Conference of Bar Presidents and the Metropolitan Bar Caucus, and spearheaded the division's launch of a formalized Consulting Services Program.

In addition to serving as field service representative, currently she facilitates bar association strategic planning sessions and operational reviews. Jennifer also authors a white paper series on bar management issues, and follows trends in nonprofit governance and organizational behavior. Her most recent projects, a white paper on association-section relations and an update of the division's New Bar President and Members of the Board, will be published this fall.

She is a member of the American Society of Association Executives, BoardSource and the National Association of Bar Executives. In her previous life, Jennifer taught art history at Northwestern University.