

Dana J. Collier Smith
Assistant Executive Director
Colorado & Denver Bar Associations

Dana is Assistant Executive Director of the Colorado Bar Association and the Denver Bar Association. Having started at the bar associations in 1976 while attending nursery school, Dana has held a number of staff positions, from receptionist to her current job as AED. Her job responsibilities include serving as liaison to the CBA & DBA governing bodies, personnel management, meeting & event planning, and Staff Director for the Colorado Bar Foundation.

Dana currently serves on NABE's Program Committee; Sponsorship Committee (chair, 2005-06); Website Committee; Meetings, Seminars & Events Forum (founding member); and the Administration & Finance Section's council. She has spoken at previous NABE meetings.

Known to be an adrenaline junkie, Dana has made over 50 skydiving jumps, raced a Formula Ford car, flown a glider plane, and participated in an aerial combat "dog fight." She gets her adrenaline fixes now by being step mom to two boys, and mom to two beagles. Husband Greg, an attorney and legal publisher, just shakes his head at the thought of what he's gotten himself into.
