

JOHN A. WILLIAMSON

John A. Williamson has served as Associate Executive Director of the New York State Bar Association since 1981, and prior to that was the Association's Counsel. Previous to joining the Association's staff, Williamson was a staff attorney for the Committee on Professional Standards for the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court, Third Department, and an Assistant District Attorney for the County of Albany, New York.

Williamson is a longstanding member of the National Association of Bar Executives, and is a member of the Section of Administration and Finance. He has also served on several NABE committees, including as chair of the Committee on Diversity Development and the Committee on Sections and Committees before it became a forum.

Williamson is a graduate of Siena College in Loudonville, New York, and Albany Law School of Union University. He has been admitted to practice law in the State of New York since 1972.