

Marilyn Cavicchia

Marilyn Cavicchia is editor of Bar Leader, a bimonthly publication from the ABA Division for Bar Services, the ABA Standing Committee on Bar Activities and Services, and ABA Publishing. Bar Leader reaches elected and staff leaders of bar associations and foundations across the country. Marilyn has been with the ABA and Bar Leader for two years.

Prior to joining the ABA, Marilyn was senior editor of both a monthly and a bimonthly magazine that covered the supermarket and foodservice industries. Her previous experience also includes an editorial internship at Advertising Age, a weekly publication for advertising and marketing professionals.

Marilyn has a bachelor's degree in English and a master's in journalism, both from Ohio University in Athens, Ohio. She and her husband James, who also works in publishing, live in Chicago's Hyde Park neighborhood, near the University of Chicago.
