

WILLIAM E. WALTERS, III

William E. Walters, a director and shareholder with the Denver law firm of Walters & Joyce, P.C., specializes in representing nonprofit organizations including trade and professional associations and has been actively involved in a number of educational activities for non profit organizations including lectures, workshops and seminars. Those programs have included legal workshops on legal risk management for directors and officers, contract law, unrelated business income, copyright and trademarks, legislation, music licensing, employment law, computer contracts, hotel negotiations and antitrust law. He has addressed the American Society of Association Executives, Western Conference of Association Executives, the National Association of Trial Lawyer Executives, the Association of State Veterinary Executives, and the Colorado and Wyoming Societies of Association Executives on legal issues affecting associations and their leadership.

Mr. Walters is a charter member of the Legal Section of the American Society of Association Executives, a past member of the ASAE's Legal Section Council, and has contributed to the ASAE magazine, "Association Management". He has served as an Adjunct Professor at the Regis University Center for Nonprofit Management and has also lectured at the University of Denver Schools of Business and Law.

Since graduating from Columbia University School of Law in 1974, he has worked in the private sector and also served as an Assistant Attorney General for the State of Colorado from 1978-81. In 1993, he received the Associate Member Award of Excellence from the Colorado Society of Association Executives and was named Attorney of the Year by the Colorado Lawyers Committee in 1991 for his pro bono legal work. Mr. Walters is a Past President of the Denver Bar Association, a past President and member of the Board of Directors of Continuing Legal Education in Colorado, Inc; and a past Chair of the Legal Aid Foundation of Colorado. He was elected a Fellow of the Colorado Bar Foundation in 1996.
